Record Supplement.

We issue to-day, in addition to our regular morning paper, a Supplement to the Record, containing editorial and other reading matter, as well as the Registration Notices showing where the Registry Agents are to be found.

ADMINISTRATION TOOLS.

As a specimen of the lengths to which the Administration and its footmen are ready to go to serve the interests of their master, we find in the New York Tribune a circumstantial charge that the postal service of the United States is turned into a spy system to promote the interests of Grant. Of the truth of this there can be no doubt. Incontestable evidence is offered that in New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Alabama, Vermont, New Jersey and North Carolina the mails are violated; that the Postmasters have been required to give the names of the subscribers to the Tribune; that the packages of that paper are opened and an Administration journal substituted, and that Postmasters are offering impediments to the passage of the Tribune through the mails, by declaring to its subscribers that it had not come, and offering them that beautiful institution, the New York Times, instead. All this is done in violation of the letter of the law, which imposes heavy penalties for such offenses. We expect that it was with a view to the services of this character that Grant appointed the carpet-bagger Clark as Postmaster at Galveston, the principal city of Texas. This man Clark, who, if he had any character at all, it was a bad one, went to Congress from Texas on the strength of a certificate given him by the carpet-bag Governor, which both of them well knew was false and fraudulent, as Clark had been defeated by a majority of three thousand. The seat was contested, and, as the matter was too bad for even a Radical Congress to swallow, Clark was unseated and his opponent was given the seat. In order to reward Clark for his villainy, and also, as subsequent events seem to prove, to have a convenient tool, Grant places the man at the head of the Galveston Postoffice. So, if a violation of the mail is necessary in that State, how gladly will Grant's willing tool show his obedience.

TESTIMONY FROM THE OTHER SIDE.

The Democratic and Liberal journals have rightfully denounced in the strongest terms the frightful corruption and opposition that have so long prevailed in the South. The administration papers have persistently denied or excused these shameful outrages. But at last the evidence is so overwhelming that the Sacramento Union, the persistent friend of Grant, acknowledges the wrong. We reprint this confession, with an extract from the Boston Post, showing that Bullock the former carpet-bag Governor of Georgia is now living in splendor on the money of which he robbed the people of Georgia:

News from Georgia State election indicates a Democratic victory by anywhere from 40,000 to 50,000 majority. Two years ago the Democrats elected five out of seven Congressmen and carried the Legislature. Four years ago the Republicans elected Bullock over Gordon for Governor by 7,047 majority in a total vote of 159,245. The same year, however, Seymour had 45,688 majority over Grant in a total vote of 159,956. Gordon was a Confederate General, and Bullock a popular politician. Gordon was an avowed retrograde, and his election would have seriously disturbed the peace of the State. Georgia has 133 counties. Our news is from not more than one-fourth as many. Fuller returns may decrease the apparent majority, or increase it. We should not be surprised at the result in Georgia. Not one of the reconstructed States had been more shamefully dealt with by the corrupt carpet-bag rascals who have used the name of the Republican party at the South to disgrace it than Georgia. Before the war, the debt of the State was but $2,070,000. When Governor Bullock to escape arrest and impeachment absented himself from the jurisdiction and resigned, the debt of Georgia reached $42,500,000. The increase caused by the extravagance and venality of the carpet-bag politicians in league with their confederates, the railway thieves, was nearly $40,000,000; and that in the six years from 1865 to 1871, or at the rate of $6,666,666 per year. It was not within reasonable expectation that a State so outraged by thieves in the abused name of the Republican party should continue to govern itself by Republican politicians. That rate of robbery would not only bankrupt Georgia, but in thirty or forty years create a debt so large that all the private real property in the State would have to be sold to pay the taxes. We invite the earnest attention of the honest Republicans of California to these Georgia affairs and this political result just announced.

The Boston Post says: "Ex-Governor Bullock, of Georgia, lives in regal style in one of the finest suburban residences about the city of London, Ontario. His house is furnished magnificently; his stud is the finest stock; his turnouts unsurpassed, and he says he has concluded to make London his residence for the future.

LETTER FROM STAR DISTRICT.

SHEKANDOH, Utah, Oct. 6, 72.

EDITOR RECORD:—Since my previous communication to you I had the opportunity to pay a flying visit to the new silver discoveries in Beaver Lake District, and as I have not seen any account from this District in the Record I give you the following particulars:

Beaver Lake District was organized about a year ago, but owing to some cause was soon abandoned, as only some copper mines had been found. About a month ago Messrs. S. Smeeton, W. L. Dykes and other parties, made discoveries of rich silver mines. At a meeting of the miners, held September 2d, Major Holt was elected Chairman and S. Smeeton, Secretary, and the District re-organized according to the new mining laws. Beaver Lake is ten miles north of this city, situated on an isolated mountain range. Five open springs supply the miners with water and more could be easily found by sinking a short distance. Wood and grass are in abundance on the mountains. The sink of the Beaver River, forming a small lake, and River Side Station, on the new stage road to Pioche, can be seen lying in Beaver Valley at a distance of five miles. The mines and prospects I have seen there are abundant proof of a great future, and I will give you the true account of them.

Big Mountain Lode is owned by S. Smeeton, W. L. Dykes & Co. The lode is traceable for a distance of 1500 feet, running east and west on Chloride Hill, showing galena and chloride frequently on the surface. The breadth of the lode on the surface is in some places 100 feet. The main prospect shaft shows a vein three feet wide in a regular limestone formation, of the richest ore, widening as it goes down. East and west on the lode, in different prospect holes, rich veins from 1 to 2 feet wide can be seen. Assays from this splendid mine vary from $94 to $895.39 in silver. The character of the ore is galena and chloride. On most any part of the lode by sinking a good streak of mineral can be found running down on the same. The Big Mountain is most favorably located for a tunnel, which can be run in on the eastern end of the lode to develop the claim and ore be taken out from the start. The extension, west of the Big Mountain Lode, located by some other parties, is also looking very well. The whole appearance of these locations, as far as any man can guess about a mine, will undoubtedly prove to be immense mineral deposits.

The San Francisco and the adjoining Hatty mine, owned by J. W. Schoonmaker & Co., situate west of the Big Mountain, on spurs running north, are also splendid locations. The mineral is traceable for 600 feet. The main prospecting shaft is down 14 feet in good walls, showing a vein from two to three feet of rich ore, widening as it goes down. The San Francisco lode shows a surface prospect of 7 feet wide in mineral, amongst which horn silver is frequently found. Assays from these mines go from $48.96 in silver and 30 per cent. lead up to $653.90 in silver and 60 per cent. lead. The Big Mountain and San Francisco mines are probably the best prospects in this District.

The Great Western, located in a north-western direction from the Big Mountain mine on Great Wind Storm Hill, was located and is owned by G. W. Mooney, Liddle & Co. The lode is traceable for 500 feet, has rich croppings, and shows in the prospect shaft a good body of ore. Hormiga and Vermilion, owned by Dykes, Smeeton & Co., are valuable properties. The ore, which is similar to that of the Great Western, assays up to $347 in silver.

The Louisville lode, owned by G. W. Mooney, is located on the southwestern slope of the Big Mountain. The lode is traceable 600 feet and will doubtless prove a valuable one.

The Silver King, owned by W. B. Devall, Recorder, is three miles south of Big Mountain, and has a well-defined ledge six feet in width, which is traceable for 100 feet or more. Assays go up to $150 in silver, and a higher per cent. in lead. Two other locations, belonging to the Recorder—the Young America and the San Domingo—have a very promising appearance.

South of the Silver King I found some locations belonging to Col. Charles L. Drew, which in future may add considerably to the good name of Beaver Lake District.

The City of New York is represented in this district by W. H. Smith & Co., and their locations are most encouraging, and will well repay them for the money and labor expended.

The copper ledges in Beaver Lake District are situated north of the lake, and present a very promising appearance. The Copper Champion, owned by S. Smeeton and S. M. Hammond, and the Fairview, Occidental, Lila, etc., show nice carbonates and red oxide of copper, but only a little work has been done on them.

Southwest of the Silver King mine are also fine copper locations belonging to H. H. Smith, Cook & Co.

Lately new discoveries have been made in San Francisco District, and work has been going on there steadily all summer. The miners say the prospects are very encouraging.

South Camp is also developing its mines vigorously and good ore is being taken out.

I have just learned of a new discovery made by W. B. Devall in Beaver Lake District, about 1,000 feet south of east from the Big Mountain mine, which shows a body of splendid ore, a sample of which I have seen.

HON. C. W. KENDALL, our candidate for re-election to Congress, is to speak at Genoa to-day, and from that place will proceed towards this section of the State. He is announced to speak in Pioche on Wednesday, the 23d, two weeks from to-day. We doubt not the gentleman will be well received.

The State Register says that registration is proceeding very slowly in Carson. The same remark will apply to Pioche.

Telegraphic Dispatches.

SPECIAL TO THE POCHE DAILY RECORD EASTERN.

Salt Lake, Oct. 8.—Advices from Philadelphia indicate that Harttraut is running stronger than was expected. Great interest and some excitement here.

KENNER.
Salt Lake, Oct. 8, 8 p. m.—The very latest dispatches from New York say the Liberals have given up Pennsylvania. The State is claimed for Harttraut by the Republicans by 30,000, and Philadelphia by 15,000. This result was not generally looked for. Nothing definite yet from Ohio, Indiana or Nebraska.

KENNER.
Washington, Oct. 7.—A number of chiefs of bureaus, heads of divisions, and nearly all the clerks in the departments, who still hold residences in the States in which elections occur to-morrow, have left here for the purpose of voting.

The election excitement is on the increase and considerable money has been staked on the results.
It is said in official circles to-day that the object of the Treasury Department in the recent financial programme was solely to relieve the business community from serious embarrassment caused by speculations in gold.

New York, Oct. 7.—At the Fleetwood races to-day the purse of $3,000 was won by American Girl in three straight heats, beating Rosalind the second and Geo. Palmer the third. Time, 2:26; 2:26; 2:27 1/2.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—The school census of Chicago is completed and shows the population to be 367,396—a gain of 43,000 over a similar census taken last June.

Indianapolis, Oct. 7.—The campaign closed to-night with large meetings by both parties. Ex-Senator Hendricks and Jas. C. Robinson of Illinois spoke at the Democratic meeting. Senator Morton, Congressman Coburn and Porter, and others, spoke at the Republican meeting. The campaign has been hotly contested throughout, and both parties are sanguine of success.

New York, Oct. 7.—During a grand ratification meeting at the corner of Division street and Bedford avenue, Brooklyn, to-night, the platform fell, precipitating all the persons thereon, including the speakers, to the ground. Two boys, Alonzo Hadley and Jas. Millwater, standing under the structure, were crushed to death, and three other boys are injured.

Cincinnati, Oct. 7.—A riot occurred at 10 o'clock to-night on the corner of Fifth street and Broadway, between the Fourth Ward Greeley torchlight procession and some colored people, in which from fifty to seventy-five shots were fired. Several persons were wounded, but none so far as heard from were killed. The accounts of eyewitnesses are very conflicting, and it is almost impossible to ascertain reliable particulars. The Greeley procession was from a ward in which the population is largely Irish, and the location of the riot was thickly settled by colored people. During the day, the colored people say word was sent to them that they would be attacked in the evening. This news was also sent to the police officers of the district, who feared a riot. The colored men laid in a stock of ammunition. The colored women of Allen chapel, corner Sixth street and Broadway, were holding a sort of fair for the benefit of the Church, and had a band of colored men playing for them in front of the building. This attracted a large crowd of people, and a speech was called for. A colored man made them a political speech on the street, and while he was speaking the procession of Greeley men, marching west on Fifth street towards Broadway, came into the latter street and turned to go down towards Fourth street. While one square distant from the speaking, and marching away from the crowd at the Church, the firing commenced. How it commenced no two stories quite agree. One account is that a lot of colored children rushed down to the procession to see it go by, and hurrahed for Grant, when the torch bearers in the procession beat the children and drove them away, and then attempted to drive a gigantic colored man away by beating him, when he drew a pistol and fired at them. Others who were not near, but who saw the beginning, say four shots were fired first by the procession, and that the colored men fired back. The preponderance of the testimony goes to show that the riot was commenced by one very large colored man who was standing at the corner of Fifth street and Broadway, on the sidewalk. The confusion then became fearful. The men in the procession first started to run, and then rallied. The colored men, such as had pistols, seemed to be using them and retreating north on Broadway. The unarmed colored men ran to their armory and got about thirty muskets and rushed back to reinforce their friends. They succeeded in driving back and dispersing the members of the procession. They then again rushed to their armory, where about 200 of them are under arms. They have all the approaches to the armory guarded. One of their leaders inside made them a speech, in which he said this attack to-night was organized to intimidate them from voting to-morrow, and he advised every man to go to the polls and vote, if at the risk of their lives. This speech was received with deafening shouts. When the riot was in progress the riot alarm was turned on and the whole police force was called out.

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 7.—At the town election in this city to-day a light vote was polled, only 4,706 out of 7,713 votes registered having voted. The Republican candidate for City Clerk, Jordan Robbins is elected by 231 majority over Levi Woodhouse, Democrat, who has held the office for several years. The Republicans have a majority in the Board of Selectmen. In 42 towns heard from the Republicans have gained these offices in four that were Democratic last year, and Democrats gained in six towns that were Republican last year.

New Haven, Oct. 7.—Henry M. Lewis, regular Democratic and Citizens' candidate for Mayor is elected by a plurality of 158.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Special dispatches from Pennsylvania and Indiana state that the election excitement exceeds anything ever known in Philadelphia, and in Pittsburgh on both sides the feeling is very bitter. All accounts agree that the vote will be the largest ever cast at any election.

Erie, Pa., Oct. 8.—The election is progressing quietly but the excitement is intense. A large vote is being polled.

Republicans expect 300 majority in the city.

Cincinnati, Oct. 8.—The election is progressing quietly. Large vote being polled. Unusual precautions taken in Sixth Ward by Mayor to preserve peace. Serious disturbance expected.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—Full vote is being polled. Election progressing quietly. Taverns closed. United States Marshal has 800 special officers on duty. No serious disturbance reported. Reddy, the blacksmith from New York, was arrested and locked up after voting three times in the Fourth Ward. The hourly announcements show more Republican votes cast than usually polled during a whole day.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 8.—An immense vote is being polled here by both parties. Buckalew's vote at noon was as large as entire vote of McClellan here last year. It is thought Harttraut's majority will be equal to Stanton's, but Buckalew's men expect to pull up heavily towards evening.

New York, Oct. 8.—Excitement here over the election in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana is intense. Different bulletin boards surrounded all day by multitudes, and every scrap of information relative to the progress of the contest is eagerly sought for. Different political headquarters crowded all day by visitors anxiously awaiting the receipt of news from different States.

Attendance at Jerome Park races smaller than previous days. First race—Annual Sweepstakes for $1000, two miles—won by Joe Daniels, who kept the lead from the start, Hubbard second. Time, 3:45 1/2. Second race—purse of $500, three-quarters of a mile—won by Wizard. Third race—grand national handicap sweepstakes, $100 with $1000 added, two and a quarter miles—won by Cuban, after a splendid contest, with Breakneck second. Time 4:10 1/2.
